Why the Judge Wouldn't Let a Negro Win in Louisiana.

A steamboat load of sports went up the river for a while the other afternoon in St. Charles parish, between Joe Green, a negro who attained notoriety in connection with the killing, three years ago, of George Goodrich, another negro, during a fight in Duffy's arena barroom, and a white man named Peterson, or "the Terrible Swede." The "scrap" was getting along in first class style, and things looked as though Green would have an easy victory, when suddenly there came an interruption. Down the steep bank of the batture a man rolled rather than ran, and as he rolled he shouted, "This fight has got to stop!"

It was Judge Henry Long of Kenner. "Who the devil are you?" said one of the backers, stepping up and confronting Judge Long.

"Never mind who I am," replied the judge. "I say this fight shall be kept up. No bigger licks a white man in this section of the country. Why, the lives of white women and children will hang on a thing like that. There will be no living with the niggers in this section of this thing continues."

"Well, you stop aside and let this fight go on," cried a number of onlookers. "We've paid our money to see it, and we're going to have it out." And then Judge Long brought another argument to bear. It was a smooth and shining pistol, and he punctuated his sentences with flourishes of the weapon. In less time than it takes to tell he had cleared out the place. When Joe Green saw the glint of the weapon, he jumped from his chair on the batture and made a bee line for the boat.—Now Orleans Times-Democrat.

GOVERNOR BLACK.

The Chief Executive of New York a Great Walker.

An Albany dispatch says that Governor Black, while from the executive mansion to the capitol every morning and when his day's work is done walks back home. Governor Flower used to do the same thing, and it was a very rare occurrence for Governor Hill to ride when the walking was good. Governor Morton rarely walked. His carriage was always at his beck and call.

Governor Black won fame as a politician in Troy before he was thought of as a politician. He used to take delight in long jaunts out into the country. His legs are several inches longer than those of an ordinary man, and consequently he can get over a deal of ground in a short space of time. Mr. Black thought nothing a few years ago of a stroll before breakfast to Wynantskill and back, a distance of probably five or six miles.

Before the trolley line was put in operation up Ida Hill way the most luxurious horse car line in the country accommodated the residents of that beautiful section of Troy. It was a ride of more than half an hour from Governor Black's office to his home. The cars went down the hill just as slowly as they crept up it. Unless the weather happened to last many the railroad company rarely had occasion to find a seat for Governor Black.

Bright and early in the morning the governor to be could be seen swinging out of his West Avenue into Pawling Avenue as a pair which would turn the veteran walker with a cuss. He could always find a horse car.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

How to Wear Flowers.
Let no one attempt to wear flowers ignorantly. It is no longer permissible to wear a few bouquets, and other (new) ways of decorating oneself are likewise out of favor. One does not know just where to place the chosen blossoms, it were far better to appear unadorned than to commit so pronounced a breach of social etiquette. For the many who are uninformed the following points of information will be of advantage. They have been issued by the most authoritative coterie of fashionable women:

Chrysanthemums are being worn by thousands of women who have not a suspicion of the proper method. The only approved style is to wear a single blossom, and it may be as large as the wearer pleases, directly under the chin, the stem reaching down toward the waist.

And, finally, there is a new place for the bunch of violets. This is to be worn on the sleeve, on the outer edge of the right cuff, whether it be worn with a coat or dress. All manner of fancy pins are in vogue to pin the violets in their new position, a fact which argues that the new fancy is already well established.—Pittsburg Times.

MANLY VIGOR

ONCE MORE in harmony with the world, 2000 completely cured men are singing happy praises for the greatest, grandest and most successful cure for sexual weakness and lost vigor known to medical science. Foul breath is a discourager of affection. There are more reasons than one for this. Foul breath is always an indication of poor health. No bad digestion is traceable almost all human ills. It is the starting point of many very serious maladies. Upon the healthy action of the digestive organs, the blood depends for its richness and purity. If digestion stops, poisonous matter accumulates and is forced into the blood—there is no place else for it to go. Before this, the fermented, putrid matter has indicated its presence by making the breath foul, the complexion sallow and muddy, the eyes dull and the head heavy. By and by, the germ infected poisonous matter in the blood causes weakness or inflammation in some part of the body. Then comes rheumatism, scrofula, consumption, liver complaint, kidney trouble and a half a hundred other ills.

The bad breath is a danger signal. Look out for it! If you have it, or any other symptom of indigestion, take a bottle or two of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It will straighten out the trouble, make your blood pure and healthy and full of nutriment for the tissues. It is a strong statement, but that is the fact. "Golden Medical Discovery" will cure 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption if it is taken in the early stages. It will relieve even the most obstinate cases of long standing.

Send twenty-one cents in one-cent stamps to cover postage and wrapping only and you will receive from the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., a large book of 100 pages profusely illustrated, telling all about the "Golden Medical Discovery" and containing portraits, testimonials and addresses of hundreds of those cured by it. It is a complete Family Doctor Book.

THESE ASTORS ARE POOR.

Claim to Be the Dispossessed Cousins of the New York Millionaires.

In apartments on the first floor of the double tenement house, 229 Railroad Avenue, Jersey City, reside three generations of the Astor family, cousins of the millionaires Astors of New York.

They are Ludwig Astor, his son, Carl Frederick Astor, his grandson, Louis Astor, 37 years old, William Waldorf Astor, 6 years old, and Henry Astor, 6 months.

Attention has been brought to the family by the published fact that a few days ago a Hudson county jury awarded young William Waldorf Astor $10,000 in a suit brought by his father against Grocer John Brede & Lutjen, 238 Newark Avenue, who threw a bag of flour at him on Sept. 22 last, permanently injuring him.

Carl Frederick Astor, father of the boy, is a bookkeeper without a position. He has been in this country 15 years. He has sold frankfurters to keep a roof over his little family and provide for his old father's wants. He had 125 cents in the First National Bank building, Jersey City.

He says that his great-grandfather was well off when the family of the first Astor, who made a fortune here from furs, were poor. They were cousins, and his grandfather, when a boy, he says, cared for the father of John Jacob Astor for some time before the latter's death. For this, he says, he received nothing.

Mr. Astor says he has frequently written to the Astors in New York asking that they help him to a position, but never received an answer. He has also called upon the family, only to meet with rebuffs.

Little William Waldorf Astor's misfortune has made him almost an idiot. He is a slightly built little fellow, and if any one touches his head he cries with pain. His brothers are strong and healthy, as was he before the accident that made him what he is.

His grandfather is a fine looking old German, who grows animated as he tells of the former glories of the Astor family at Waldorf.—New York Journal.

The Algor.

Fifty-one national societies were represented at the meetings of the National Council of Women held in Boston on Dec. 2 and 4. With few exceptions, the reports from these organizations showed gratifying progress in work undertaken. One of these exceptions was found in the report read by Mrs. M. A. Lovell of Philadelphia of the work of the Antislavery society. Part of the effort of this society is directed toward the bird despoiling and slaughter for millinery purposes. Mrs. Lovell eloquently denounced the practice and begged every woman present who wore an ornament in her hair to tear it out before she left the building, adding, "I have had only occasional glimpses of the speakers here today through a veil of the plumes plucked from the breasts of mother birds, while hovering over their young."

She reported that almost no progress had been made toward getting women to stop the encouragement of these cruel practices, the demand for bird plumage being practically no less than it has been for a number of years.

SUMMONS.

IN THE SECOND JUDICIAL DISTRICT Court of the State of Nevada, in and for Washoe County, The State of Nevada sends to George C. Staley, residing: You are hereby required to appear in an action commenced against you as defendant by "Landing & Staley" claiming in the Second Judicial District Court of the State of Nevada, in and for the County of Washoe, and answer the complaint therein within ten days after the service on you of this summons (exclusive of the day of service). If served in said county, or twenty days if served out of said county, but within said district, and in all other cases forty days, or judgment by default will be taken against you as ordered to the prayer of said complaint. The action brought to recover judgment and costs of the Court dissolving the basis of matrimony now existing between you and said plaintiff, on the ground of willful neglect and failure on your part for more than four years last past to provide the plaintiff with the necessities of life, having the ability so to do; and for the custody and control of the minor children, Raymond, Corrie, Gordon and Parker Staley, the lawful issue of said marriage, now residing with the plaintiff at Reno, Nevada. All of which will more fully appear from the complaint, which is on file in the office of the Clerk of said Court, at Reno, in said county, and to which you are especially referred. And you are further notified that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint, the said plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in said testimony, whereof I have heretofore set my hand and affixed the Seal of said Court, at Reno, this 7th day of January, A. D. 1897.

F. R. PORTER,
Clerk of the Second Judicial District Court of the State of Nevada, in and for Washoe County.

G. M. Bradford, the noted pool player, is registered at the Palace. Mr. Bradford will no doubt give an exhibition of his skill in the near future.
Donnels & Steinmetz are agents for the new Wheeler & Wilson ball bearing sewing machines, which they sell at San Francisco prices. Don't fail to see them.
The ball to be given by the Reno wheelmen on February 19th promises to be a grand affair. The finest music obtainable has been procured, consisting of fourteen artists.
A. Nelson will sacrifice his stock of furnishing goods in order to make room for new goods. Now is the time to get bargains. Call at his store on Virginia street. Free employment office connected with the store.
Call at Muller & Stamm's Pabst agency for fine California and imported wines for family and medicinal purposes. Sherry, port, muscatel, angelica and all dry wines by the gallon. Open every day till 6 o'clock p. m. at 11th.

Attention University Students.

The Honorable Committee on Ways and Means of the State Senate will visit the University this Saturday, February 16th. The cadets will meet at the Armory at 2 o'clock for brief review. All students of the University will meet in general assembly at 2:30 o'clock. Prompt and large attendance is desired. By order of the President of the University.

ROBERT LEWERS, Secretary.

THE NEVADA LEGISLATURE.

THE EIGHTEENTH SESSION—
TWENTY-SIXTH DAY.Arrangements Progressing for the Glove Contest—Great Anticipations, etc.

CARSON, February 12, 1907.
It would not be out of place to say that the brains of the battle-born State were concentrated at the capital to-day when the fact is considered that besides the legislative representatives, the members of the Nevada Press Association are here holding a meeting. In addition to these, several correspondents of San Francisco papers are on the ground, hence Carson can boast of an influx of brains at the present writing, as well as an increase in her population as far as the sporting element is concerned, in view of the coming prizefight.
Property has increased in value wonderfully in the last few hours. An ordinary vacant lot 50x150, on the main street that would probably have brought $500, has already reached $10,000 as a site for the proposed building for athletic purposes. Something of the anticipated flow of money that is to be turned loose in the State can be shown by the following:
The location of Corbett's training quarters were in doubt and his private secretary insisted that the management at Shaw's springs must provide a handball court for the champion. Slingerland, the lessee, did not feel like going to the expense himself so he canvassed Carson for the necessary funds, and after some difficulty raised the amount. The writer was sitting in the office of the Arlington an evening or so ago and heard two of the notables talking about board and room rates. During the conversation one was heard to remark that even one dollar a day for board and a dollar and a half for room and board was too high and they didn't propose to be jammed. These illustrations will serve to show how near some of the financial expectations of our home people will be realized. There will not be any more money left in this part of the country than can be helped, and already rooms are being secured by outsiders for all kinds of catch-penny fakes in the hope of raking in the loose money.
A bill was passed in the Senate to-day providing for the duties of the State Treasurer. The real object of the bill was to permit the treasurer to put his time lock on during other hours of the day other than at 4 o'clock which is now, according to law, the close of business hours.
Skeggs asked for information as to whether this law had been especially introduced in view of prizefight week. It may be possible that the precaution may be opportune.
To-day was fish day in the Assembly, two fish bills being before the House. One provides the close season on all waters in the State from October to April, and the other for a screen at the outlet of Washoe Lake to prevent the fish from running down Steamboat Creek. There was considerable talk on both bills and a great deal of parliamentary tactics indulged in to kill the measures, but the first finally passed and the second was ordered engrossed.
Frank Jaynes of the Western Union Telegraph Company arrived this morning, bringing three extra operators, and will establish an office especially to handle the volume of business anticipated.

Assembly bill 57, Allen—To provide for the treatment and cure of inebriates. Referred to Committee on Public Morals with directions to prepare an amendment to the bill making it a misdemeanor for anyone who has received the benefits of the act to afterwards take a drink of liquor except in case of sickness, and then under proper restrictions; also a misdemeanor for any person to sell or give such person, except in case of sickness, any liquor. Recess until 2 o'clock.
AFTERNOON SESSION.
Assembly called to order by Speaker Allen.
Quorum present.
Assembly bill 29—Relating to the preservation of fish. Considered in Committee of the Whole and made special order for Tuesday at 2 o'clock. Adjourned until Monday.
SPARKING EXHIBITION.
A Good Program Assured for Next Tuesday Night.
James J. Corbett accompanied by his brother Joseph, Billy Delaney and John McVey, will arrive here on Tuesday morning next, February 16th, from San Francisco, and will appear at the Opera House on that evening. Joseph Egan and William Woods are already here awaiting their arrival. An interesting number of boxing bouts are being arranged. Mr. Corbett will spar with John McVey, and an exhibition of science never before seen in this vicinity can be looked for.
Ladies are especially invited, the program containing no objectionable features. While, of course, it consists entirely of sparring, it certainly can't fail to command their admiration. The art of self-defense always inspires, and just now this State is largely discussing the merits and defects, so Corbett's appearance here at this time is doubly welcome.
At the Opera House.
The Carrie Clarko Ward company produced the comedy-drama "Underground" to a fair sized house last evening. The play was received with laughter and applause. Carrie Clarko Ward acquitted herself charmingly. Carl Berch as Bob kept the audience in a constant ripple of laughter while he was on the stage. Messrs. Bailey, Crouse, Bishop, Lynton and King were admirable in their respective roles. Miss Griffin looked charming and Miss Lockward as Mollie McGinty could not have been better. For the matinee this afternoon the play "In Idaho" will be given. Take your little ones. This evening the great temperance drama, "Ten Nights in a Bar-room" will be produced with the full strength of the company.
Petty Thieves Still Extant.
Complaints have been made by citizens living on the outskirts of town that sundry articles of household wear—not to mention poultry—have disappeared somewhat mysteriously. Reno is at present infested with a class that "bach," and perhaps, if a close search were instituted many surprising disclosures might result.
Another Professional Resident.
In another column will be seen the professional card of W. J. Wardlow, D. D. S. Mr. Wardlow is a graduate of the Pennsylvania School of Dental Surgery, and is prepared to do anything and everything in his line. He has secured office room in the new Investment building, and will be ready for business on Monday next.
Nevada's Ephemeral Gold Mine.
It is reported that an effort was made yesterday by the prize fight managers to secure lumber enough for the enclosure to be used on the day of the scrap and return it after the fight. Another evidence of the promised liberal outlay of money toward the upbuilding of Nevada.

A TRANSFER OF PROPERTY.

How a Bold, Bad Highwayman Made a Raise.

Thursday afternoon, we rode over to Black Dog valley to increase our subscription list and it was dark before we left for home. As we came to Panther creek a man stepped out into the road and leveled a gun on us and ordered us to throw up our hands and dismount. He had a business ring to his voice and it didn't take us over fifteen seconds to get our feet on the ground. "How much ye got," he said. "Seven dollars, to a cent," we replied. "Hand it over." We took great pleasure in transferring our wealth and hoped he would take it and hurry off to buy a cattle ranch. He didn't go, however. As we stood there with hands up he took possession of our watch and guns and pocketknives. For a time he seemed inclined to ride away on our broncho, but he finally abandoned the idea and ordered us to mount and get it. It is needless to remark that we didn't lose a minute and that we didn't look back to see if he counted our cash correctly. While we were being robbed we told the man a little story with a funny climax to it and also asked him to guess two or three racy conundrums, but he didn't thaw out in the least. It was evidently straight business with him and he had no time for fooling around. It was hardly fair in him to take our guns and tucker, as we have hourly use for both, but at the same time we can't blame him for working the mine to the last cent. We hope to meet him under different circumstances some day and meanwhile shall do no kicking over what we lost. —Arizona Kicker.

ANOTHER IMPROVEMENT.

The Cadet Corps at the University to Have a Band.

The boys at the University have for some time past been trying to get together a sufficient number of instruments—and players—to form a band organization in connection with the cadet corps. The Board of Regents finally took the matter in hand, and yesterday a set of instruments was ordered. There are several good musicians attending the school, and those who will have to start in green will be instructed in the mysteries of "oom-tata-ta-ta" by Professor Hoskins, who has been engaged for that purpose. One hour each day will be devoted to practice, and it won't be a great while before the boys will be able to "live up" with the universities of other States in the matter of brass music.

Marvelous Results.
From a letter written by Rev. J. G. Underman, of Diamonddale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at River Junction she was brought down with Pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at S. J. Hodgkinson's drug store. Regular size, 50 cts. and $1.

Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup." 4-17

Electric Bitters.

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed, when the lagging exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, indigestion, constipation, dizziness, yield to Electric Bitters. Fifty cents and $1 per bottle at S. J. Hodgkinson's drug store.

NEVADA'S COMING GUESTS.

Among Them Will Be Some Eminent Criminals.

In speaking of the arrangements being made for the coming fight the Carson News says: "Another matter that Mr. Stuart considers very important is that of protecting his guests from thieves and crooks. Detective Cornwall of Dallas is already on hand and it is the intention to have a skilled detective from every large city in the United States, who is familiar with all the crooks of prominence in their cities, and immediately upon the arrival of one the word will be passed around and he will be given the tip that he is spotted and had better conduct himself in pretty good shape or he will be taken in charge in very short order. This system will be perfect and is one of the matters Dan attends to in good style." It seems to the Journal that if Stuart has to import a small army of detectives in order to keep the peace in Nevada, and in Carson especially, it would be a good scheme to forego the matter altogether.

The Skating Rink.

The skating rink at the Pavilion has changed hands. O. P. Ferrel has assumed full control, and it will be open every afternoon and evening. Wednesday and Friday afternoons for ladies only. Saturday nights a dance will be conducted in connection with the skating. Good order will be maintained and a good time is assured all who attend. New features will be introduced frequently. On the 15th of February catching a greased pig will be the event. On the 25th a grand carnival and dance will be held. 350m1.

It Seems None is Popular.

There was considerable skirmishing around town yesterday to see what could be done in the matter of raising a purse for a finish fight between Maher and Sharkey. For the most part the men approached did not seem overjoyed at the prospect of dragging their pockets for the benefit of the fighters. In fact, they did not seem at all enthusiastic.

Woman's Work

Is never done, and it is especially wearing and wearisome to those whose blood is impure and unfit properly to tone, sustain, and renew the wasting of nerve, muscle and tissue. It is more because of this condition of the blood that women are run down.

Tired, Weak, Nervous.

That because of the work itself. Every physician says so, and that the only remedy is in building up by taking a good nerve tonic, blood purifier and vitalizer like Hood's Sarsaparilla. For the troubles peculiar to Women at change of season, climate or life, or resulting from hard work, nervousness, and impure blood, thousands have found relief and cure in
